Attention: Ms. Tannis Braithwaite, Executive Director

Dear Ms. Braithwaite:

Re: FortisBC Inc. (FBC)
Project No. 3698887

Multi-Year Performance Based Ratemaking Plan for 2014 through 2019 approved by British Columbia Utilities Commission (Commission) Order G-139-14 – Annual Review for 2017 Rates (the Application)

Response to the British Columbia Public Interest Advocacy Centre representing the British Columbia Old Age Pensioners' Organization, Active Support Against Poverty, Disability Alliance BC, Council of Senior Citizens' Organizations of BC, Together Against Poverty Society, and the Tenant Resource and Advisory Centre et al. (BCOAPO) Information Request (IR) No. 1

On August 8, 2016, FBC filed the Application referenced above. In accordance with Commission Order G-123-16 setting out the Regulatory Timetable for the review of the Application, FBC respectfully submits the attached response to BCOAPO IR No. 1.

If further information is required, please contact Joyce Martin at 250-368-0319.

Sincerely,

FORTISBC INC.

2 1.1 What were the O&M charges to FBC for the use of the Prince George contact
3 center for the first half of 2016, and what are the forecast O&M charges for all of 4 2016?

5
6 Response:

7 Please refer to the response to MoveUP IR 1.1.7 which contains the requested information for 8 January to August 2016.

9 FBC forecasts the O&M charges to be approximately $50,000 for 2016; however, the forecast is 10 subject to change based on actual volumes and actual staffing levels in both operations.

2 2.1 Were there any staffing impacts due to the SCC assuming management
3 responsibility for the former City of Kelowna distribution system and, if yes, what 4 were they?

5
6 Response:

7 No, there were no staffing impacts. This initiative eliminated the need for a local person in 8 Kelowna to be designated as the Person in Control (PIC) for the former City of Kelowna
9 distribution system. As explained in the response to BCUC IR 1.4.1, this eliminated the need for 10 wage premiums related to PIC responsibilities, but there were no staffing or other labour
11 impacts.

4 5.1 Please provide a Table similar to Table 3-1 but for 2016 consistent with the 5 2016S load forecast in the current Application.

7 Response:

8 Please refer to the response to CEC IR 1.4.6.

10

12 5.2 Please provide the specific cross reference to the 2017 DSM Expenditure
13 Schedule Application that supports the 2017F DSM savings values shown in 14 Table 3-1 and the 2016S DSM savings values provided in response to the 15 previous question.

16

17 Response:

18 FBC provided a discussion of why the DSM Expenditure Schedule is not directly comparable to 19 the forecast of DSM savings in response to BCUC IR 1.5.4 (Exhibit B-2) in the Annual Review
20 for 2016 Rates. FBC has copied that discussion below, with updates to reflect the response for 21 the current filing.

22 The differences between the two tables occur because the DSM savings are presented
23 differently in the DSM Plan and in the Annual Review forecast, hence the savings values are not
24 directly comparable. The difference occurs as a result of the way that the 2017 DSM Plan
25 savings are presented, attributed, and disaggregated in the load forecast.

26 The main reason for the difference is that the 2017 Forecast presents the DSM savings 27 numbers as cumulative starting in 2016 (2015 and earlier DSM savings are embedded in 28 historical data) whereas the DSM Plan shows the savings as incremental (the savings for each 29 plan year are shown separately).

30 The 2017 DSM Plan figure of 25,715 MWh represents annualized energy savings for the DSM
31 projects, by major customer sector, planned to be undertaken in that calendar year only. The 32 forecast presented in FBC's Annual Review factors in the timing of DSM projects: some of the 33 DSM project savings are attributed to the year following the project. For example, if a project
34 with 12,000 kWh of savings was planned to be completed in December 2015, the DSM Plan

FortisBC Inc. (FBC or the Company) Multi-Year Performance Based Ratemaking Plan for 2014 through 2019 Annual Review for 2017 Rates (the Application)	Submission Date: September 28, 2016
British Columbia Public Interest Advocacy Centre representing the British Columbia Old Age Pensioners' Organization, Active Support Against Poverty, Disability Alliance BC, Council of Senior Citizens' Organizations of BC, and the Tenant Resource and Advisory Centre et al. (BCOAPO) Information Request (IR) No. 1	Page 7

1 shows all of those savings in 2015. The forecast numbers, however, reflect 1/12 of the savings
2 in 2015 (1,000 kWh of savings in December 2015) and the remaining 11/12 of the project's
3 savings are reflected in 2016 (11,000 kWh of savings from January to November 2016).

4 Furthermore, for forecasting purposes, FBC disaggregates a number of sub-categories of DSM
5 that are not shown in the DSM Plan savings. For example, "Residential" in the plan savings
6 includes the residential portion of the "Wholesale" savings (for the City of Penticton and the 7 other municipal utilities) presented in the load forecast. Similarly the "Commercial" plan savings
8 contain the "[Street] Lighting" and "Irrigation" values shown separately in the load forecast. The 9 forecast also isolates the (line) "Losses" associated with the DSM program savings.

10

12

13 5.3 Please explain why the CIP savings for 2017 are less than half of those projected
14 in last year's Application for 2016 (per BCOAPO #4.1).

16 Response:

17 The CIP savings for 2017 are lower than projected in the Annual Review for 2016 Rates due to 18 the full implementation of CIP being delayed until December 31, 2016. The savings forecast in 19 the Annual Review for 2016 Rates assumed full CIP implementation during 2015 which included
20 2 GWh of savings in 2015 and full savings of 4 GWh in 2016. Since the project will not be fully 21 implemented until the end of 2016, FBC is now forecasting savings of 2 GWh in 2017 and full 22 savings of 4 GWh in 2018.

23

24

25

26 5.4 Please provide the derivation of the RCR savings for 2017F.

27

28 Response:

29 As a result of analysis performed for the most recent RCR Report to the BCUC in 2014 and the 30 availability of 2015 load information, the forecast conservation impact due to the RCR was 31 increased to 3.4% relative to the original Residential Inclining Block Rate Application. The 2014
32 RCR Report also estimated that 36.2 GWh of savings had been realized to the end of 2014 due
33 to the RCR. Another 4.2 GWh of savings are considered to have been realized in 2015, based 34 on residential load data and the RCR annual impact estimates. In order to realize the remaining
35 incremental savings from 40.4 GWh to 46.3 GWh by the end of 2017, the Company estimates

1 that another 4.1 GWh of conservation will occur in 2016 with the remaining 1.8 GWh being
2 realized in 2017.

3 FBC notes that it has provided a revised version of Table 3-1 in the response to BCUC IR
4 1.6.1, which corrects the AMI and RCR savings recorded in that table. The RCR impact was 5 revised to a total gross load cumulative impact in 2017 of 7 GWh from 10 GWh.

3 2016 Annual Review, BCOAPO IR #4.1

4 7.1 Page 23 of the current Application states that the “current forecast loss
5 reductions [from AMI] remain unchanged from those provided as part of the AMI
6 CPCN Application”. However the values for the “Incremental AMI Impact” in the 7 current Application’s Table 3-4 are materially different from those in last year’s
8 Application (Table 3-4). Please reconcile and, in particular, address the change
9 in the 2017 value.

11 Response:

12 The current forecast loss reductions are unchanged from those provided as part of the AMI
13 CPCN application, adjusted for the Commission’s determinations as provided in Order C-7-13.

14 The Incremental AMI Impact amounts shown in Table 3-4 are the cumulative impacts compared 15 to those embedded in the historical actual load. Since FBC now has actual load data for 2015,
16 there is no need to include an incremental AMI Impact for that year in the 2017 load forecast,
17 and therefore the amount shown for 2017 has declined from the amount reflected in the Annual 18 Review for 2016 Rates.

19 For example, in the Annual Review for 2016 Rates, the 2017 forecast value was calculated by 20 adding the 2.4 GWh loss reduction forecast for 2015, the 2.7 GWh loss reduction forecast for 21 2016, and the 3.9 GWh loss reduction forecast for 2017 equaling a cumulative loss reduction
22 impact of 9.1 GWh in 2017. For this year’s Application, the 2015 AMI impacts are already 23 embedded in the actual 2015 load data, and the 2.7 GWh loss reduction forecast for 2016 is 24 added to the 3.9 GWh loss reduction forecast for 2017 to equal a total AMI impact of 6.7 GWh
25 (differences due to rounding).

 4 and the Projected 2016 total of 3,426 GWh. In doing so, please include rows to 5 account for FortisBC's own generation and, if necessary, any external sales.
 6

7 Response:

8 The following table shows a revised version of Table 4-2 with the GWh contribution associated
 9 with each of the rows, including FBC owned generation. The purchases from Waneta
 10 Expansion are for capacity only and do not contribute energy towards the Approved 2016 total
 11 of 3,540 GWh or the Projected 2016 total of 3,426 GWh.

12 2016 Power Purchase Volumes (GWh)

Line No.	Description	Approved 2016	Projected 2016	Difference
1	FBC Generation	1,589	1,599	10
2	Brilliant	914	894	(20)

13
14

15
16 8.2 How much of the reduction in BC Hydro PPA costs and GWh (as between 2016
 17 Projected vs. Approved) was due to being able to replace the PPA energy
 18 purchases with cheaper Market and Contract Purchases?
 19

20 Response:

21 As shown in the response to BCOAPO IR 1.8.1, BC Hydro PPA energy purchases decreased
 22 from 786 GWh to 574 GWh between the 2016 Approved and 2016 Projected Power Purchase
 23 Expense, which is a reduction of 212 GWh. The corresponding volume-related decrease in 24 PPA costs is equal to $9.706 million.

25 Market and Contracted Purchases increased from 247 GWh to 337 GWh between the 2016
 26 Approved and 2016 Projected Power Purchase Expense, which is an increase of 90 GWh.

1 Expressed as a percentage, the decrease in PPA purchase volume offset by Market and
2 Contracted purchases is 42.5%.¹

3 Therefore, of the $9.706 million volume-driven reduction to BC Hydro PPA costs, 42.5% can be
4 attributed to increased market purchases, which is equal to a reduction of $4.12 million.²

5

8 8.3 Is all of the increase in Market and Contract purchases (2016 Projected vs.
9 Approved) the result of increases to replace more expensive PPA energy
10 purchases? If not, how much of the increase (in both dollar and GWh terms) was 11 for this reason?

13 Response:

14 Yes, all of the increase in Market and Contracted purchases between the 2016 Approved and 15 the 2016 Projected Power Purchase Expense was the result of increases to replace more 16 expensive BC Hydro Power Purchase Agreement energy and capacity purchases.

17
18

19

20 8.4 Please provide a revised version of Tables 4-3 that shows the GWh contribution
21 associated with each of the rows towards the Forecast 2017 total of 3,559 GWh.
22 In doing so, please include rows to account for FortisBC's own generation and, if 23 necessary, any external sales.
24

25 Response:

26 The following table shows a revised version of Table 4-3 with the GWh contribution associated
27 with each of the rows, including FBC owned generation, contributing towards the Forecast 2017
28 total of 3,559 GWh. The purchases from Waneta Expansion are capacity only and do not 29 contribute energy towards the Forecast 2017 total of 3,559 GWh.

¹ Calculated as 90 GWh divided by 212 GWh (the reduction in BCH energy)

² Calculated as 42.5% x $9.706 million.

13 10.2 Please explain why there are no entries for 2016 or 2017 for Advanced Metering
 14 Infrastructure Radio-Off O&M costs in Table 6-3.

16 Response:

17 In the Annual Review for 2016 Rates, FBC indicated that the approved tariff fees for radio-off
 18 customers were not sufficient to recover the forecast costs associated with providing installation
 19 and manually meter reading services to these customers. FBC proposed to track and recover 20 the shortfall (the net costs after fees collected) outside of formula O&M expense. The 21 Commission denied this request in its Decision and directed that the shortfall be recorded in a
 22 deferral account for future determination.³ Therefore, there are no O&M expenses forecast for 23 radio-off customers in 2016 or 2017 in Table 6-3. Instead, the net costs associated with 24 manually reading the radio-off meters are captured in the AMI Radio-Off Shortfall deferral
 25 account in Section 11, Schedule 12.2, Line 14.

6 Response:

7 FBC confirms that it continues to collect revenues associated with the connection and 8 reconnection of a service in certain instances.

9 All revenues related to the connection or reconnection of service, including the charge for the 10 setup or transfer of the account, are treated as an offset to costs in Other Revenue.

12

13
14 11.2 Is this practice consistent with how revenues from Meter Connection fees were 15 treated in the past (i.e., prior to Letter L-1-16)?

17 Response:

18 The treatment of recognizing meter connection fees revenue in Other Revenue is consistent 19 with past practice.

2 12.1 What is the basis for the $0.04 M savings associated with not needing to carry
3 out the annual inspection of Upper Bonnington Unit 3 (i.e., how was it
4 established)?

5
6 Response:

7 The basis for the $0.04 million in savings consists of the avoided cost of not performing an 8 annual inspection on Unit 3 during the refurbishment. These annual costs have historically 9 been in the range of $0.03 million, and FBC has added some minor savings in operations and 10 maintenance expense due to not running the unit during the refurbishment period.

13

14 12.2 Please explain the difference between the $0.04 M savings associated with 15 avoiding the inspection of Upper Bonnington Unit 3 and the projected $0.3 M cost
16 of inspecting Lower Bonnington Unit 1.

18 Response:

19 The $0.04 million savings is the avoided cost associated with not performing the annual 20 inspection and other annual maintenance for UBO Unit 3, as explained in the response to 21 BCOAPO IR 1.12.1.

22 The $0.3 million cost is the projected cost of the major unit inspection planned for Lower 23 Bonnington Unit 1.

24 The annual inspections occur each year on each unit and the major inspections occur
25 approximately every 80,000 run hours. The major unit inspection is larger in scope and consists 26 of a comprehensive mechanical and electrical inspection, hence the difference in cost.

2 13.1 Was the need for ongoing AMI Sustainment Capital identified in the AMI CPCN
3 Application and, if so, please indicate the relevant reference(s).

4
5 Response:

6 Yes, the need for AMI Sustainment Capital was identified in Table 5.1.b of the AMI CPCN
7 application (Exhibit B-1, section 5.1, Project Costs). At page 71 of the AMI CPCN application,
8 FBC made it clear that the costs and benefits presented in Table 5.1.b were not included in the 9 capital expenditure approval being sought under the requested CPCN, but would be included in 10 future revenue requirement and capital expenditure applications.

11 The costs included in Table 5.1.b of the AMI CPCN application were subsequently impacted by 12 the Addendum to the CPCN application (Exhibit B-1-3), which factored in the additional City of 13 Kelowna acquisition-related costs and benefits, and by Order G-139-14, which reclassified
14 certain software costs from capital to O&M.

12 14.2 At page 45 (lines 10-13) the Application states that none of these projects is 13 forecast to be included in rate base or affect rates for 2017. However, Table 7-4
 14 indicates that Special and CPCN Projects have an impact on in-service plant
 15 used for rate base of $5.973 M. Please reconcile.
 16

17 Response:

18 CPCN and Special Projects enter rate base on January 1 of the year after entering into service.
 19 No portion of the projects listed on page 45 (the Kootenay Operations Centre, Ruckles 20 Substation Rebuild and UBO Old Units Refurbishment projects) enter service during 2016 and 21 therefore none of them enter rate base or affect rates in 2017. The $5.973 million shown in 22 Table 7-4 is the value of final transfers to Plant in Service during 2016 for the AMI and AMI
 23 Radio-Off projects, which do enter rate base on January 1, 2017.

2 15.1 Please explain the 47% increase in Working Capital as between 2016 Approved

4
5 Response:

6 The increase in Working Capital from $0.697 million in the 2016 Approved to $1.520 million for
7 the 2017 Forecast is primarily due to an increase in the forecast of uncollectible accounts. FBC
8 forecasts this value to be $1.520 million in 2017, based on the 2015 actual value of $1.504
9 million.

17 Response:

18 At the end of June 2015 there were 18,896 monthly billed customers, which is approximately 19 14% of customers. There were 111,914 bi-monthly customers at that time, which is 20 approximately 86% of customers.

21

23

24 16.2 What was this proportion as of June 2016?

25

26 Response:

27 At the end of June 2016 there were 19,797 monthly billed customers, which is approximately 28 15% of customers. There were 112,300 bi-monthly customers at that time, which is
29 approximately 85% of customers.

2 17.1 Please provide the detail derivation of the 2.14% value for 2017 Standby Fee on
3 Undrawn Credit (Table 8-1, lines 12) and explain the increase over the approved
4 2016 value of 0.16%.

5
6 Response:

7 FBC notes that the 2016 value of 0.16% is the Projected stand-by rate, not the Approved stand-
8 by rate.

9 There are two factors that are increasing the stand-by rate.

10 The first is an increase in the amount of the stand-by fee being charged. The stand-by fee is 11 charged on the undrawn portion of FBC's operating credit facility balance at a rate of 0.2%.
12 Since FBC is forecasting an increase in its undrawn operating credit facility balance from $63
13 million to $118 million, this results in a $127 thousand increase in the stand-by fee from $115
14 thousand in 2016 to $237 thousand in 2017.

15 The second is that the stand-by rate is calculated as a percentage of FBC's credit facility
16 balance. FBC's credit facility balance is forecast to decrease from $81.869 million to $11.062
17 million, which, although not changing the amount of the stand-by fee significantly, does change
18 the percentage from 0.16%⁴ to 2.14%⁵.

19

20

21

22 17.2 Please provide the detail derivation of the 3.41% value for 2017 Financing Fees
23 (Table 8-1, lines 14) and explain the increase over the approved 2016 value of 24 0.43%.

26 Response:

27 FBC notes that the 2016 value of 0.43% is the Projected financing fee rate, not the Approved
28 financing fee rate.

29 The derivation of the 2016 Projected and 2017 Forecast financing fees (Table 8-1, lines 14) are 30 shown in the table below.

⁴ $127 thousand divided by $82 million, variance due to rounding.

⁵ $237 thousand divided by $11 million, variance due to rounding.

Line #	Description	2016 Projected	2017 Approved	REF
(in Million Dollars)

2	Credit facility balances drawn to finance rate base	82	11
1	3 Financing fee rate	0.43%	3.41%	Line 1/ Line 2

2 While the financing fees costs have not increased significantly from the 2016 Projected of $358
 3 thousand to the 2017 Forecast of $377 thousand, there is an increase in the rate once these 4 fees are converted into a short-term rate. This short-term rate increase is primarily due to lower 5 draws on credit facilities of $11.062 million (a lower denominator) in 2017 as compared to the 6 2016 projected of $81.869 million.

FortisBC Inc. (FBC or the Company) Multi-Year Performance Based Ratemaking Plan for 2014 through 2019 Annual Review for 2017 Rates (the Application)	Submission Date: September 28, 2016
British Columbia Public Interest Advocacy Centre representing the British Columbia Old Age Pensioners' Organization, Active Support Against Poverty, Disability Alliance BC, Council of Senior Citizens' Organizations of BC, and the Tenant Resource and Advisory Centre et al. (BCOAPO) Information Request (IR) No. 1	Page 32

1 24.3 At page 23, FortisBC was directed to “include in its next Annual Review
2 Application a discussion on whether GFOR should be moved from an
3 informational SQI and added to the list of measurable SQIs”.

4
5 24.3.1 Please indicate where, in the current Application, this direction is 6 addressed.

7
8 Response:

9 The Commission direction referred to in the question was from the Commission’s Decision on 10 FBC’s Annual Review for 2015 Rates Application, and directed FBC to include the discussion
11 “in its next Annual Review Application.” FBC addressed the direction by providing the requested 12 discussion in its Annual Review for 2016 Rates, at pages 120 and 121. As discussed in the 13 referenced portion of FBC’s Annual Review for 2016 Rates, FBC’s view was that the GFOR
14 should be remain as an informational indicator.
